

PHIL 330, Contemporary Moral Problems

T White, Spring 2001

Paper #3

1. Explain why this is an ethical issue. That is, how does it relate to the basic human needs of the various people involved?
2. Using a deontological approach, make a judgment about the ethical acceptability of the actions described. Did the employees do anything "morally wrong"? Did Dow do anything "morally wrong"?

Explain your position in as much detail as you can. Anticipate and deal with possible objections.

Due: Thursday, March 8.
